Revellers Road Trip

The Revellers have just completed their 2022 season playing to three full houses at the Sutton Grange hall. As well as enjoying what the Revellers had to offer, the audiences were served a delicious afternoon tea and were able to mix and chat in a convivial get-together at the end of the show.

Until now the concerts have all been evening performances with dinner by the Redesdale Hall Committee, but the afternoon matinee format is a real winner and looks like it's now 'the way to go'. There were plenty of comments about not having to drive late at night through rain (and kangaroos) and that kids can now come too.

The 'Raison D'etre' for the Revellers always was to raise money for the Redesdale Hall Committee, and along the way they have helped other Committees too. They are pleased that their efforts this year have boosted the coffers of Sutton Grange and Redesdale committees by considerable amounts.

Redesdale and District Association AGM Report

Another year gone by as quick as a wink it seems. We have now held the 10th Redesdale and District Association AGM this past weekend, where members of our community were all invited and some have again put up their hands to join The Redesdale and District Association for 2022/20233. Looking back at all the minutes of our meetings, it appears we have achieved quite a lot this past year. In February, The Reactivate Redesdale event was held on our local reserve, in collaboration with the Redesdale Recreational Reserve Committee. The event gave our wider community the chance to meet all 9 of our local committees. It was a granted event from the Greater City of Bendigo and its success was shown by the number of local people who attended. Exactly what we needed after two years of Covid lockdown.

As part of the Redesdale Community Precinct Project, three meetings were held in March, April and May to support a collaboration between our community committees with the assistance from the Greater City of Bendigo and the company Co-Impact . The purpose being to strengthen Redesdale as a town and community as well as to help progress future projects. Sadly this didn't happen but from what I hear from many people in our community there is positive feedback stating "we have an ongoing and very healthy outlook for the future of our town."

The Redesdale and District Association was set up to help facilitate local community groups, to offer support and help draw people in when an event dictates.

Any successful community group relies on the commitment and participation of its residents and I think perhaps we need to build back that good spirit.

On a positive note, we know we can host events successfully, all three committees contributed to a pop up cafe/bbq at the Open Garden Victoria event at Kathy Hall and Rod Gibson's property "Coliban Springs" in April. A fun event that surprised a lot of people from far and wide with home baked cakes, scones, tarts, biscuits etc a very successful outcome in terms of a fundraising event as well as a good example of collaboration, volunteerism and a worthwhile experience. It was a chance to introduce some of our new residents that participating in our community events is a great way to meet people.

RaDA initiated the June Car Boot Sale , due to the Bush Market cancellation for the second year, again with the assistance from the RRRC. Whilst it turned out to be one of the coldest days in June , a lot of hot sausages sold, so it was a worthy try just in the wrong season.

Then the many conversations and meetings started for The Pavilion Art Show and Craft/produce Market. The input and ideas began on a roll and continued to the end.

My thanks on behalf of our committee firstly goes to all our sponsors, starting with the Foundation for Rural Regional Renewal for the grant they awarded us back in July 2021, together with Pan After from Melbourne, The Bell Cottage in Redesdale.

The Redesdale Hotel, The Bendigo community Bank in Heathcote, Joyce Hopwood-Knights from The House Gallery in Redesdale, Ray White Heathcote and Ray White Kyneton for all the funding contributions and the advertising signage

noards

To all the people that kindly donated their items for our silent auction our thanks for your generosity.

As we all know, without well-funded support and sponsorship, an event such as our Art Show can't be done to the standards of what people expect.

As a team event it was a success despite the weather. Thankyou to all who helped with the cleaning of the community pavilion inside and outside prior to the art show, kindly organised by Jo Smith Sargent and to the final cleanup participants who gave their time and assistance under the direction of the RRRC.

I want to pay particular thanks to the two talented secretaries, Lin Newton from RaDA and Craig Newton from the RRRC, who dealt with the stall holders, the sponsors, the advertising People and the artists from the initial contact through to the meet and greet and the market set up. The paperwork alone was extraordinary and the hours of work they put in was very generous.

Our thanks goes to Lynette Ingles at Blue Pencil Publishing, whom we seem to have a direct line to, and also put in many extra hours of her time. Lynette has always been a great supporter of Redesdale events. Our treasure Robyn Abramowski and Gary Prendergast treasurer from the RRRC who were fastidious in their accounting, Jo Smith-Sargent and her catering team including Frederika Laurie that produced the beautiful homemade food for our opening night. Thank you to Kevin Foley and David Watt for their curating experience and hardwork and to Gloria Pocock for her organisational experience and advice from previous Redesdale Art shows.

For those of you who don't know, we had 32 Artists exhibiting just over 100 pieces of work and 40 stall holders who brought their crafts and produce to Redesdale, a great result.

The Redesdale and District Association through our Secretary has sourced replacement items for our local community defib machine after receiving notification that there is a potential problem with the Phillips brand defibrillator. This has been a very long ongoing issue, working with Ambulance of St. John, seeking guidance from the City of Greater Bendigo and updating the other contributing committees. We appreciate and thank you for the time and effort you have taken. Our thanks goes to the Redesdale CFA for their offer to arrange a sausage sizzle on November 26th (voting Day) at the Redesdale Hall which will be managed with other contributing committees, all raised money going towards ongoing defib replacement pads and batteries.

I would like to thank the Redesdale Recreational Reserve Committee for giving the Pavillon space for community groups such as RaDA, The Bridge Connection, The Sit and Knit for a Bit group, the Eppalock Ward listening Post meeting, and the final visit from Steph Ryan the retiring Deputy Leader of the National Party in Victoria and the continued organised Drop In Digital sessions that have certainly been beneficial for all who have attended.

My thanks to Megan Stewart for her ongoing assistance with the RaDA website and Debbie Graetz for her management of the Redesdale Instagram account. Please keep these sights in mind for anything of interest that relates to Redesdale and its surrounding districts.

My thanks to the chairman Mike Abramowski for his continued support and for chairing today's AGM and I thank the new and continued members of the Redesdale and District Association.

The following nominations have been accepted.

President . Pan Prendergast Vice President. Frederika Laurie Secretary. Lin Newton Treasurer. Rob Abramowski Bridge Connection Rep. Regina Bennett

Redesdale CFA Rep. Craig Newton RRRC Rep. Craig Newton

Landcare Rep. Barbara James Stone Reserve Rep. Jo Smith-Sargent General committee members.

RRRC Report for our activities in 2022.

It has been a busy year for RRRC, with the finalisation of the Community Pavilion. As a result, the Pavilion has become a central and well used facility for the community with both paid for and complimentary community activities.

Community groups and Committees have been using the Pavilion as a great venue for small to medium sized meetings, including:

- Redesdale HUB Meeting
- CFA Awareness briefing
- Landcare Meeting
- RaDA Committee Meeting (8 Meetings)
- RRRC Committee Meetings (5 Meetings)
- Stone Reserve Committee (2 meetings)
- CoGB Community Planning Consultation Meeting
- Steph Ryans' "Thank you and farewell" Meeting
- CoGB Community Listening Post Meeting

With the Pavilion overlooking the reserve, it was a perfect match to coordinate a number of larger events, such as:

- Reactivate Redesdale Community Get-together
- Car Boot Sale
- Pavilion Art Show
- Redesdale Craft & Produce Market Regular Community Activities are also being held in the Pavilion. So far we have had:
- Yoga Classes (34 sessions on-going)
- "Sit & Knit for a Bit" Craft Sessions (21 sessions on-going)
- Complimentary Drop-in Digital Training (2 sessions 4 remaining)

Complimentary Drop-In Digital Learning Sessions

It's no secret companies and the government want us to use our technology more. However, some of us find this a little daunting, and need a little hands-on guidance to be more engaged.

Redesdale Recreational Reserve Committee, in partnership with City of Greater Bendigo, is planning to arrange COMPLIMENTARY DIGITAL DROP-IN SESSIONS at the Redesdale Community Pavilion using the services of Computer Coaching of Bendigo.

- Learn how to best use your devices.
- Get assistance with internet issues.
- Connect apps across all your devices.
- Help with updating your software.
- Understand how to use the internet for purchasing groceries, managing on-line accounts, pay utilities and other bills.
- Learn how to use Face-time or Zoom with family and friends.

It's yet to be finalised, however our plan is for this service to be available

2:00 pm to 5:00 pm on the first Wednesday of the month - commencing Oct. (6 months, excluding January 2023.)

Your expression of interest will assist us in getting this approved, so drop us a line and we can keep you updated on progress.

Contact: Craig Newton 0408 890 060 3444reserve@gmail.com

We are hoping that these activities will continue into 2023, with a number of others being proposed.

Other activities that have occurred during the year include:

- A battery system was connected to the Pavilion solar electricity system to enhance our black-out resilience during emergencies.
- The decking outside the Pavilion has been completed, along with the shade sails.
- Combining this with the purchase of chairs and tables have definitely enhanced the decking experience.

We are looking forward to the coming year being even busier, and invite all the community members to consider and propose any ways in which they can use the facilities we maintain for your benefit.

It has been a busy Spring trying to keep on top of the incredible amount of growth that we are having this season. If it's not raining then there are limited opportunities to get out on the mower and that also has it's challenges. Boggy lawns and being eaten alive by mosquitoes but most people are up to the challenge. The evenings and weekends are filled with the sounds of brushcutters and mowers, so keep up the good work because Summer will arrive eventually, maybe? We still need to be prepared.

As this is the last hard copy edition of the BC until the end of Summer, I just wanted to run through some of the main fire safety tips.

PREPARE Most people are doing that now by cleaning up their properties.

PLAN Have a plan in place and recognise your "trigger". Do you leave early on a total fire ban day or is it only if the rating is Catastrophic? Do you stay and defend and if so are you capable of doing that?

BE INFORMED Become familiar with the fire danger ratings and know what are you are in. Take note of emergency broadcasts, texts, emails and social media.

HAVE A PLAN B If you're unable to execute your plan then have a backup. Have somewhere you can go. A neighbour or friend if it is safe to do so or the Redesdale Hall, it is the designated safe place.

DON'T RETURN Until it is safe to do so. Too often we see people trying to get back into their property to get their pets. They are more resilient than us so if they are in a well prepared, safe place then most likely they will be alright. DISCUSS Any issues or concerns you may have with us. We are here to help and it may help us by knowing a bit about you as well.

Finally, don't start any fires yourself. The most common reason for us to turn out is to put out a mower fire started by the landowner. The most important things to remember with mowing is to avoid the heat of the day and never mow dry grass. All of this of course depends on the season changing and us actually having a Summer.

On a sad note we have recently had to come to terms with the retirement of long time Fire-fighter and life member Lindsay Booker. Lindsay and Ruth have been a big part of the community and will be sadly missed, although only moving to Castlemaine. We hope to see plenty of you both.

Until next year, have a happy and safe Christmas.

The "Other "Redesdale Bridge On a recent trip to Melbourne I noticed this structure from where we were staying, on Bridge road Richmond. Closer inspection revealed that it was the bridge that was in the original destination

RECIPE OF THE MONTH Crostoli

72

2 eggs 50g icing sugar 50g butter melted 120g plain flour ½ tsp baking powder 60ml white wine (or Marsala) Olive Oil for frying (not extra virgin) Icing sugar to dust

Put the flour on a work surface and add the baking powder. Make a well and mix in the butter, sugar, eggs, and wine. Mix everything together, kneading to form a soft dough. If it is too hard add a little wine if too soft add some flour. Knead the dough for at least 5 minutes. Make into a ball, wrap and leave at room temperature to rest.

Roll out the dough very thinly, using a rolling pin. I use my pasta maker which I roll out to the finest setting. The thinness of the dough is the secret to good Crostoli.

Using a pastry wheel, cut strips of dough about 2 cm wide and 10cm long.

Heat enough oil to come two-thirds of the way up the sides of a frying pan or saucepan. When the oil is very hot (a piece of stale bread should brown in 50seconds)) fry the dough shapes in batches until pale gold and puffy. Lift the Crostoli out of the oil and drain on kitchen paper. Before serving sprinkle each with icing sugar

BRIDGE GARDEN PATCH

Plant of the Month

"Diggers Speedwell"

This is a new gardening section aimed which will aim to highlight a plant which will grow well in our challenging local conditions; rocks, droughts, rabbits, locusts and now soaking rain! We have very big boots to fill since Fermi has unfortunately decided to discontinue his amazing series of "Redesdale Ramblings".

This month will feature Diggers Speedwell, otherwise known as Veronica perfoliata, Parahebe perfoliata or Derwentia perfoliata.

A cutting was given to me by a dear friend about a year ago after I admired the flower protruding from a gorgeous posy she had brought to my house. The delicate blue flowers, which bloom throughout the summer, hang in spikes from very attractive branches of greyish green leaves. It is great for cut flower displays.

It is a perennial shrub that will suit native and cottage gardens but will flourish in a semi shaded position. There are also white varieties.

The Derwentia genus, in which the Diggers Speedwell lies, is placed in the foxglove (Scrophulariaceae) family. It grows from central NSW through central and western Victoria.

If you have recently started a garden in our local area and want to try this plant, ask if you can have a cutting from local gardeners. Propagation is most successful if new growth is taken from sprouting rootstocks.

The Kyneton WRP Licence Amendment

The process remains paused until the EPA has received an acceptable response from Coliban Water to EPA's latest Request for Information, issued on Oct 13th. The EPA will then continue to assess the application.

Snipes Creek

In trouble again. These pictures taken on Oct 12 indicate the difference in volume between the water entering the KWRP and that downstream of the plant, at Red Hill Rd.

The notification of release from the KWRP letter, from Coliban Water, included the following..." Regular monitoring indicates water quality is being impacted by run-off upstream of the Plant. We will continue to complete water quality testing in conjunction with the EPA." No data for volumes of releases from the plant or water quality has been seen from CW or the EPA at this stage, but the water in Snipes Creek was so foul that farmers had the water tested themselves. The sample taken from Snipes Creek at Red Hill Rd on Oct 27 revealed the E. coli level >2400/100mL. In correspondence from the EPA to Coliban Water regarding the KWRP Licence amendment application back in April, it points out that EPA Publication 1910.2 stipulates that:

- o Any exceedance to the recommended E. coli levels for Class B recycled water (100 E. coli /100mL) should trigger resampling and retesting.
- o Levels  $\geq$  400 E. coli /100 mL in two consecutive samples or a rolling annual median  $\geq$  100 E. coli /100 mL should trigger a notification of WWTP failure to EPA and investigation to remediate the issue.

This means that the E. coli levels proposed for the amended licence (see Attachment F and Permission pathway form) would not be appropriate:

- o 100 E. coli /100mL should be a rolling median, not an annual median
- o 400 E. coli /100 mL should be the maximum level instead of the proposed 500 E. coli /100 mL

So if the recommended E. coli levels for Class B are 100 E. coli/100mL, what Class is >2400 E. coli /100 mL!!??? Whether the pollution is coming from the KWRP or it's a cocktail from there and the industrial sites across the road, the fact is that the amount of E. coli is far far too high and means that once again the Campaspe has a tributary that is contributing to its demise. The long-range forecast overview for our area indicated that the rainfall in the Dec-Feb period is likely to be up, while the temperatures are likely to be down. Along with the soil moisture being so high we may well see further releases into the waterways over summer. Take good care of yourselves and your stock. Any problems with stock that have been in contact with polluted waters should be reported to Agriculture Victoria on 1800 226 226, and evidence of foul waterways to EPA 1300 372 842. Unfortunately the fauna will just have to do the best it can under these stressful conditions. Check the health of Lake Eppalock regarding blue green algae over summer at www.g-mwater.com.au/news/bga for current updates and report any sightings. Local knowledge and observations are very valuable.

The Redesdale Festival Returns! By Tahlia Campbell

After taking a break the last few years, the Redesdale Festival finally returned to us! From Friday the 28th to Sunday the 30th of October, the recreation reserve was bustling with activity. Crafters and small business owners from all over came to sell their wares. Delicious food, drinks, and snacks were available on this surprisingly sunny weekend.

We predicted a rocky start to the Saturday market when rainclouds gathered overhead. The marquees were moved from the ovals to the rec reserve grounds in case of heavy rain. There was no need to worry, though - despite the grey skies looming, the sun showed its face and ended up being quite a warm day!

It was an excellent weekend for families, who traveled all across the state to share in the excitement. Live music played near the hall, keeping everyone entertained as they explored everything there was to offer.

The air was filled with the delicious scent of authentic dumplings, organic tea, hot jam donuts and more. Whether you were looking for some lunch or just a sweet treat to have with your coffee, there was something at the market for you.

For those lucky enough to start their holiday shopping early, this was the perfect opportunity to get some quality gifts for loved ones. Our sellers brought along their best products for purchase, most of them hand-made in Australia. There were options for everyone, including crystals; candles; jewellry; essential oils; hand-crafted toys, delicious food products, and more.

The event was a great chance for both the community and visitors to connect. The last few years have separated us, made us feel lonely and isolated. But events like these can bring people together and help us feel a part of something again. Hopefully this year marks the return of more festivals in the coming years.

The "Other "Redesdale Bridge

On a recent trip to Melbourne I noticed this structure from where we were staying, on Bridge road Richmond. Closer inspection revealed that it was the bridge that was in the original destination of what later became the Redesdale Bridge.

It is a commonly accepted story about the Redesdale Bridge being built in England and shipped across to Melbourne to span the Yarra River between Hawthorn and Richmond. After the ship sinking only a couple of hundred metres from its destination, the Bridge was later salvaged and purchased by the Metcalfe and McIvor shires to cross the Campaspe River. The Yarra Bridge replacement must have been built quickly because it was opened one year after the Redesdale in 1869 ( although a small plaque claims it to be Victoria's oldest iron bridge). This picture shows a couple of obvious differences between our bridge and the Yarra version. The lattice shaped iron trusses along the sides are unmistakably the same but the fact that it is under the road stands out. The endless stream of traffic travelling along Bridge Rd would be oblivious to the historic structure underneath them. The other obvious difference is that the iconic arches that the Redesdale Bridge is famous for are missing. These were not part of the original bridge but built later when the engineer decided they were needed to give the Redesdale Bridge more sideways stability. These may have been built on site as a temporary foundry was set up to replace or rebuild sections of the bridge that were damaged from the fire and sitting in sea water for so

The recent celebrations to commemorate the bridge's 150th year led to a large amount of research being done into the Redesdale Bridge's history. Some of the theories about the bridge, and in particular the other half", were proven to be sadly untrue. There have been many stories about half the bridge being used at Redesdale and the other half being used at locations ranging from Queensland to as nearby as Keilor. Unfortunately, less exciting is the fact that the project was so far over budget that approximately two thirds of the bridge was used to span the Campaspe and the other third was sold off for scrap metal to reclaim some of the costs.

It always seemed strange to me that the ship carrying the bridge could survive such a long and dangerous trip only to catch fire and sink within a stones throw from its destination. All crew and passengers made it safely to shore. Apparently back in the day shipping companies were poorly paid for their efforts and the insurance from a sunken ship was a much greater reward. It was not uncommon for a ship to mysteriously sink close to the safety of land.

I wrote this article because I found it interesting that two identical iron truss bridge's coming out from England could end up looking so different. The Yarra version being hidden under the road and the iconic Redesdale Bridge standing as a constant reminder of it's own and the wider community's long history.
