Editorial

Hello Readers!

Welcome to our first edition for the year.

February and March have been busy months for the community. We've had 3 sausage sizzles at the pavilion, and we have Barbie coming on Friday 8th March at the open air cinema organised by the CFA. On Sunday March 10 we have the Community Market at the Agnes Mudford Reserve. We've also had a Heart Smart and an IT and Security presentation.

We are still collecting letters about phone and wifi connectivity problems; See page 11.

It was delightful to receive a letter from Mieke Larson, a VERY young member of the community who would like to make a quilt to hang up at the hall. What a great idea! See page 18.

Happy autumn everyone!

As this unpredictable summer continues to drag on, we have witnessed some devastating fires, namely the Grampians and Beaufort. There has been large areas of land burnt and many houses destroyed. As a guide the horrific black Saturday fires burnt 10,000 hectares around Redesdale and surrounding towns. The Beaufort fire is around 18,000 hectares and at the time of writing this, not yet under control.

The disastrous end to summer has prompted the CFA to again remind us all of the dangers of deciding to stay at home and defend your property.

The official CFA statement goes like this:

- Defending a house requires at least two fit and determined adults who are physically and mentally prepared to work long and hard in arduous and difficult conditions. At least 10,000 litres of water (not from mains supply which can fail during a fire). Protective clothing. Appropriate firefighting hoses and pumps.

- If you plan to leave. Leave early and go somewhere safe. If you haven't left early and there is a fire locally then the Agnes Mudford Reserve/Redesdale Hall area is the locally designated " Place of last resort ". It is an excellent place to shelter until the danger is gone.

On a lighter note the Redesdale CFA is holding a free movie night at the Agnes Mudford Reserve from 7.30pm Friday 8th of March. We will also be at the market on Sunday the 10th. Look forward to seeing you there.

Stay safe!

Being Heart Smart

Healthy heart?

Do you know the health of your heart? Many of us assume “no news is good news”, but with your heart that, it seems, is often not the case. In February, Nanci Thurston – the Epworth Hospital’s Heart-Smart Coordinator – joined us for a fabulous conversation all about heart attack. She busted some myths, provided us with some scary statistics and gave us some very useful advice and insights into what causes a heart attack; what to look for; what to do...and what NOT to do!

Did you know:

- Heart attacks claim one Australian life every 51 minutes?
- More than 50% of heart attack deaths occur before the person reaches hospital
- 1 in 3 people would not call 000 (triple zero) if they were experiencing severe chest pain
- 1 in 3 people wait for more than 8 hours before they seek any kind of help.

The message is staggeringly simple: angina is a warning sign that something is wrong – you need to see a doctor. Signs of angina to look for:

- Pain or discomfort that comes and goes. It doesn’t have to be constant to be a symptom
- Chest pain, pressure, tightness, a squeezing feeling
- Left or right arm pain. Or both.
- Neck or jaw pain or discomfort
- Indigestion
- Shortness of breath

John Beurle shared his story. He had chronic pain in his foot. His doctor sent him off to get some tests and, in the process, found he had a cholesterol level that was off the charts. His main artery was 80% blocked! Bottom line: a few cardio tests later and he was admitted to Epworth and had a heart stent inserted. John explained that for decades he’d had chest pain but put it down to indigestion and took warm milk and honey to ease the pain! His father had died from his 2nd heart attack before he turned 60. And yet no one “joined the dots”. Until last year. He’s now on medication for life; but he’s healthy and working on losing a bit more weight.

One of the most surprising facts Nanci shared was that coronary artery disease is the leading killer of Australian women: claiming 20 female lives each day. That’s over 7000 women a year! Once you’re on the ‘other side’ of menopause, your risk ratchets up.

So what are the risk factors?

There are things you can’t change:

- a) Age. If you’re a man – its 51.
If you’re a woman its 60.
- b) Family history – mother, father, brother, sister prematurely (under 60 years old) dying from heart disease.
- c) Gender. Guys – you’re the most at risk. But there are things you can change:
 - i. Smoking. Stop!
 - ii. Blood cholesterol. Know yours and keep it ‘normal’ – less than 5.5.
 - iv. Depression. Be aware of your mental health. There’s a strong link.
 - v. Diabetes. Watch your diet. Talk to your doctor about what you can do
 - vi. Physical activity. As “Norm” used to say: ‘Life. Be In It’ .
 - iii. Blood pressure. Know that too and keep it

There was lots of information to take in over 90 minutes. My 3 takeaways:

1. 1 in 3. Count them out. It could be you. Ignorance is not bliss – it could be fatal.
2. Get a Heart Check. If your doctor bulk bills, this is a free service: just ask for one. You and your doctor will then know what shape your heart is in and take it from there.
3. No-one died of embarrassment from calling an ambulance. Earlier is always better. Don’t DIY.

On behalf of everyone who attended, a massive “thank Nanci Thurston for coming all the way from Melbourne just to share her knowledge and insights with us;

John Beurle for organising this event and being willing to share his story; and

Alix Austin from the Heart Foundation marketing department for supplying some great handouts; including a fridge magnet of the warning signs and a wallet sized medical card to keep on you at all times. I’ve filled mine in

Connectivity and Security

On Thursday February 29th, Grant Sutton from AgCloud gave a presentation at the Redesdale Hall regarding ways in which primary producers can receive a federal grant to set up connections on their properties. The federal government has allocated $50 million to allow farmers to claim a rebate of up to $30,000 to set systems up.

Grant was brought up in Sedgewick and knows the Redesdale Mia Mia area well. He has a background in IT and has always had strong sympathy for the difficulties our local farmers have connecting to the internet and keeping their stock and equipment secure.

He and his team have grown the business from individual IT assistance to a company which now covers Victoria, South Australia and Queensland providing IT assistance, security products and connectivity solutions for country Australia. There are offices in Bendigo and Brisbane. Systems include Starlink connections, wifi connections to sheds, Cel-fi installation and solar-powered wireless repeater stations which can connect sheds over hills or behind trees.

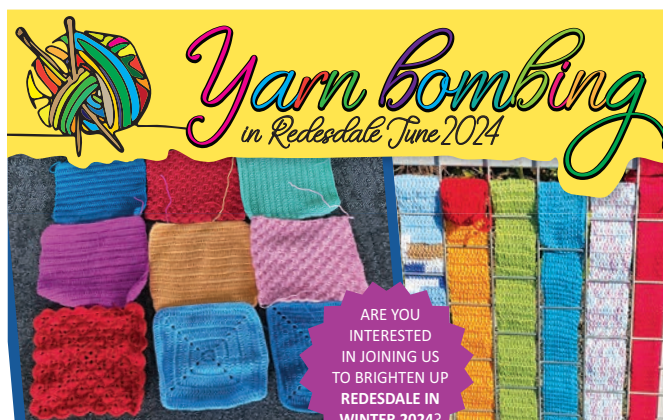

There are also security products such as high-quality cameras which can zoom into specific areas, automated remote-controlled security lighting and various alarm systems.

Grant has also continued his interest in individual IT security and will advise on how to prevent scamming and hacking which is increasing alarmingly.

For further information it is worth looking at the website www.agcloud.com.au.

Funding boost available for local sporting clubs

Nationals Member for Euroa Annabelle Cleeland is encouraging local sporting clubs to put together applications for a new round of grants that will allow for crucial upgrades to their infrastructure and facilities.

Ms Cleeland said that many sporting clubs across the electorate had contacted her about funding for important projects that could be covered under these new grants.

“Plenty of sporting clubs across our region have identified projects in recent times that would make compelling cases for funding under this grant stream,” Ms Cleeland said.

With all applications for the fund needing to be applied for by local councils, Ms Cleeland encouraged all interested sporting clubs to reach out to them as soon as possible.

“All our local sporting clubs should take their proposals to their local council and request that their projects be considered for funding,” Ms Cleeland said.

“I will certainly be reaching out to our councils too, ensuring that our local clubs aren't excluded from this fantastic opportunity.”

Ms Cleeland spoke with the Minister for Community Sport during the last sitting week of Parliament, discussing the fund and the opportunities available for clubs within the Euroa electorate.

“I had very beneficial meetings with the Minister during the week and am confident that these grants can provide our local sporting clubs with the funding they deserve to carry out their proposed projects,” Ms Cleeland said.

“Whether it be improving facilities to allow for greater female accessibility and enjoyment, upgrading surfaces, or providing a community meeting place – these grants will give our clubs a great opportunity to grow.”

Applications close at 5pm on Wednesday 27 March 2024. More information on the fund and the application process can be found at:

<https://sport.vic.gov.au/grants-and-funding/our-grants/regional-community-sports->

There are also new grants available specifically for cricket clubs, Applications are open now and close Sunday, 24 March 2024. For more information or to make an application visit www.cricketvictoria.com.au/clubs-support/grants/.

CONNECTIVITY

Phone and internet connectivity is a major problem for many of our residents. It is a health and safety matter as well as a business and well-being issue. Annabelle Cleeland, our State member for Euroa has voiced her support for our attempts to win recognition for our problems in this area. Many residents have spent a great deal of their own money trying to improve their signals.

It is important to have examples of these lived experiences when petitioning various levels of government for assistance with this problem. Lived experience examples carry weight.

We have received 4 excellent letters from the community, including from the CFA, outlining the importance of adequate communication channels.

We need more.

Please address your letters to info@redesdale.net by email, or by hard copy into the Bridge Connection drop box at the hall.

Phone signal problems?

Internet dropping out?

Please let us know your stories.

The district association is collecting examples of the frustrations our local community continues to have with connectivity.

Next year, we will be putting in a concerted effort to bring this to the attention of all levels of government. Please send your stories to info@redesdale.net or post them into the Bridge Connection mailbox at the Redesdale hall.

Turnip - SD

Prepare your garlic beds if not already done so.

Garlic needs full sun and well composted loose soil.

While you are waiting for the garlic leaves to appear plant lettuce and harvest when the garlic leaves start to emerge.

Continue to check mulch levels in beds and pots and top up where thinning, as it will be rotting down quickly now.

Mulch helps to keep the soil moist and cool.

Weed and water regularly, particularly plants in containers.

Encourage pollinators into your Kitchen garden with plants such as Cosmos, Alyssum & Cleome, Borage and Marigolds.

When your apple harvest is completed prune out dead, crossing and crowded branches. Cut back a third of last years growth on young trees.

Happy early Autumn planting in your Kitchen garden.

Calling all artistic children!

It was a joy for the Bridge Connection committee to receive a letter in our drop box in February from Mieke Larson, a young resident of Mia Mia. The letter was beautifully illustrated and handwritten.

Mieke had seen the commemorative quilt hanging in the Redesdale Hall and was inspired to make a quilt of her own. She wondered if she made a quilt – or other artwork – it could be displayed at the hall.

All the committees associated with the hall think that Mieke's idea is terrific. It got us thinking...what if we had an area on the hall wall that was devoted to artworks from local children?

So here's a challenge to the children out there – send us your ideas for wall hangings. You can post the ideas into the Bridge Connection dropbox at the hall or you can send them to bridgeconnection.editor@gmail.com

Thank you for your idea, Mieke!
